The Elementi ION 200mm Bath Spout is a stunning addition to bathrooms everywhere, combining modern style with high-performance excellence. Its minimal profiling and streamlined lines make this bath spout from the ION range of tapware a true eye-catcher for your bathroom, both in terms of its appearance and high-level performance.

Available in five fashionable finishes, the ION Bath Spout can be used to match any style bathroom, thus becoming the best choice for anybody seeking a glimpse of modernity. Its smooth, flat minimalist design makes it complement any contemporary bathroom design.

Designed using state-of-the-art plating technology, the ION Bath Spout offers a perfect finish that is not only aesthetically pleasing but also extremely resilient. The spout is specifically engineered to resist tarnishing, scratching, and fading, and it will look as good as new for years to come.

Mains pressure resistant, this spout is mains and multi-pressure system compatible and offers constant water flow irrespective of conditions. Its aerator with smooth flow prevents scaling and offers a smooth, even flow of water for a pleasurable bathing experience.

The ION 200mm Bath Spout has a 10-year warranty for the spout and a 5-year warranty for the colour finish, giving you peace of mind that you are completely happy with your purchase. Renovating or constructing new, this bath spout is a great choice for shape and functionality.
