Flaminia Settecento Vessel Basin is a masterpiece as a combination between innovation and heritage, inspired from baroque churches' holy water fonts. Generations ago, this item had been traditionally created in marble, but Flaminia transformed it into a ceramic form that imparts an unbelievable as well as challenging appearance on the bathroom.

Designed by the skilled Italian designer Giulio Cappellini, the Settecento basin is meticulously designed to produce a three-dimensional effect in ceramic with precise values of thickness and minute details. The excellent quality of craftsmanship ensures that the basin not only appears stunning but is also functional and durable. Measuring 500x500x200mm, the basin is the center of attraction in any bathroom where functionality and beauty converge.

These basins are manufactured with Ceramics of Italy, promoting maximum quality, design, and environmental sustainability. The Ceramics of Italy brand is reserved for products made in Italy, and it is proof of competence and innovation.

With its 10-year guarantee, you are guaranteed the longevity and strength of this premium basin. At 15.5kg, it's heavy and robust and therefore ideal for homeowners who want to add drama to their bathroom.

Crafted to perfection in Italy, the Settecento Vessel Basin brings Italian masterpieces and beauty to your bathroom with timeless beauty combined with modern functionality to provide an unforgettable bathroom experience.
